CROP SCARE SHAKES

THE GRAIN EXCHANGE

Ten Cents a Bushel Advance in

Price of Wheat in Week.

One Firm to Wall

CHICAGO, April 11.—Ten cents a bushel advance in the price of wheat in the last week and today of the week crop scare in the United States since 1907. More than 4 cents of the rise took place in about as many of the crops of wheat today on exchange. The grain continued with a slight recession until the jangling of the bell at the close of the day brought the price of wheat from the floor.

One firm whose facilities however were said not to be important, went to the wall. A leading trader at St. Louis likewise was alleged to have been unable or unwilling to respond to heavy calls for margins and to have allowed his desire to be wound up under the hammer as provided for by the rules made to fit such an emergency.

The excitement that reached a climax today has been growing since Monday and previous to this morning had put up the market 6 cents of the 10 cents that has now been added to the selling price in Chicago. The height of it all has been a continuous flood of orders to purchase wheat and these in turn were the result of advances which made it appear that calamity had overtaken perhaps a third or more of the entire crop of soft winter seed planted last autumn.

WEEKLY STATEMENT OF CLEARING HOUSE BANKS

NEW YORK, April 11.—The statement of clearing house banks for the week shows that the banks hold $8,616,750 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $8,132,450 in the proportionate cash reserve as compared with last week. The statement follows:

TERRIFIC WIND

was slight. It is not known whether insurance was carried.

Another telephone alarm from 1619 North Tejon street at 9:25 o'clock reported a barn owned by Mrs. H. V. Wendell to be blazing, but the department soon put out the flames. They are said to have been started by hay in a box stall catching fire from a unknown source. The damage was small and is covered by insurance.

So great was the velocity of the wind that all work on the streets preliminary to the actual paving had to be stopped. Great clouds of dust and fine sand, much of it picked up from the plowed streets, filled the air and kept pedestrians off the streets. Little shopping was done as a result.

Trees in all parts of the city are reported down and the wind did much damage to the trees and shrubbery in the parks. Torn awnings broken and lamps and window panes together with one or two demolished sheds also were reported in various parts of town.

The storm is said to have started on the western slope, but that section did not get such high winds as this part of the state, owing to a snow storm there. The maximum temperature here yesterday was 23.5° and the minimum was 23.5° exceptionally low for this season. The storm was preceded by a slight snow storm late Friday night and early yesterday morning.

GREAT FUTURE

last year. It seems hardly possible that this condition exists, but it undoubtedly does.

The people over there have begun to realize, too, what it means to develop their resources. For instance, they have great quantities of iron, and they are now making use of it. In several of the cities are many foundries and smelters, and the Chinese manufacture railroad steel and iron products of all kinds. They have shipped some of their rails to this country, and they can make a cheaper price on it than the Pittsburgh companies. This is because the labor and raw materials over there are so cheap. Even now, I understand that two big railroads on the coast are contemplating the purchase of steel from Chinese firms. This may seem a bad thing for this country, but if you study conditions carefully you will see the matter in a different light. It will not hurt manufacturers in this country. You can readily see what a great thing it is to have such an unlimited source as this to draw from, too.

Besides iron and coal, the people mine copper and lead in great quantities. Manufacturing is just beginning in China. At present the largest factories are those that turn out cotton products. They raise much cotton in that country.

Awakening Benefits World.

"The awakening of China is undoubtedly a great thing for the world. Now we can get those natural resources, and the people will come out and trade with us. I believe that as a commercial center China will be foremost in the ranks of the nations. Just think for a minute what it means to the other countries to have China—take up. For instance, they are changing everything over there. They are at this to adopt our style of dress, and this in itself means much to us. The Chinese formerly wore small caps. At the time of the revolution they adopted the hat and called for a supply of more than 600,000 hats in a very few weeks. Just think of what that meant to the country that got the order. When they start to order clothes it will be the same thing again. China trades mostly with England, Germany, France, Japan and this country."

Mr. Clinton says that in the next few years the railroads in China will have increased many times their present size. Several years ago there were only several hundred miles of roads in the country, and it took almost 24 days to go from Hankow to Peking, the capital. Now there are many thousands of miles of roads, and it takes only about 24 hours to make the trip from Hankow to Peking.

A talking of his Y. M. C. A. and mission work in China and Japan, Mr. Clinton said:

If I Had Eczema

I'd simply wash it away with that amazing liquid, D.D.D. Prescription. The very first drop instantly stops that awful itch. A 25-cent trial bottle will prove it.

10 STORIES MAY LEAD TO CLEW TO MURDER

BOSTON, Mass., April 11.—The murder of George E. Marsh, the wealthy soap manufacturer whose body, containing five bullets, was found on the West marsh yesterday, remains a mystery, except for a story told by Amos Foster, crossing tender at the West station of the Boston, Revere & Lynn railroad.
Foster said that yesterday morning saw a touring car come down the road, stop near the place where the body was found and after remaining a few minutes continue on its way. Some faith also was placed in the story told by Harry E. Cummings, a young laborer of the murdered man, who saw Mr. Marsh Thursday night at 6 o'clock riding in a buggy with years ago to work. The students in that part of China I saw, and there about two years, and then living that most of the Chinese students were in Tokio, Japan, I saw, and my headquarters there, where I have been since.

Tokio Big Student Center.
"Tokio is the largest student center in the world. When I went there five years ago there were more than 10,000 students in the university and 10,000 of them were Chinese. I saw a lot of them with these Chinese and also the Koreans. The Y. M. C. A. work in that country is about the same as here. We have our buildings and work along the same lines as we do right in Colorado Springs. There is a social side of the work, and we conduct night classes for the benefit of the Chinese and Korean students who wish to take courses that are not offered in the university.

"We are more than satisfied with the results of our work in China and Japan. In the new Chinese government our men have come to the front. In fact it was the foreign educated men who carried the revolution through. The leader of the Fukien province I saw was a Y. M. C. A. man.

"So you can see plainly that it is the Chinese who have successfully got through this revolution. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the president, is a Christian, and for five years he lived within four squares of my home in Tokio. He had a price on his head and couldn't go back to his own country. I am very much interested in the work among the Chinese, and when I go back I will try to do more than before."

NORTHEAST LOUISIANA LOWLANDS IN PATH OF GREAT VOLUMES WATER

Through two crevasses in the Mississippi river and another in its equally rampant tributary, the Arkansas, great volumes of water are today rushing out over the lowlands in the west side of the big stream, destined to cover a large section in northeast Louisiana, and a portion of the extreme southeastern part of Arkansas.

For the next eight or ten days the raging waters, which late Friday tore their way through the restraining levees will move southward, and finally will return to the Mississippi at the intersection of the Red river. No less than 12 large parishes in Louisiana and two Arkansas counties will have felt the effects of the flood waters. Millions of acres of land will be inundated, although for the most part the overflowed territory will embrace untitled swamps.

No lives have been lost according to reports received last night from two score of towns. Thousands of families will be made homeless.

Many thousands of cattle have been drowned.

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—Great damage has been wrought in north Louisiana as a result of a breaking last night of the west levee of the Mississippi near Abbeville. Pears are estimated that many lives may be lost. It is estimated 800 square miles now are flooded, with prospects that twice that amount of territory was inundated by night. Thousands of families will be made homeless.

MONROE, La., April 13.—It is feared there has been loss of life where the Mississippi flood swept through northeast Louisiana. The breaks in the river dike came so unexpectedly that thousands of persons were caught unprepared.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 13.—Hesper, Enoka, Omega, Tallabona, Mansford and Mason are flooded. South of Tallabona, La., a dozen or more towns will be flooded within 24 hours.

VOCKSBURG, Miss., April 13.—Urgent appeals for aid for flood sufferers have been received here. From Roosevelt, La., came a telephone call asking that a boat be sent to rescue persons marooned in a store there. It was the last place of refuge that remained.

Telephone messages from Madison Parish, La., confirm reports that the entire parish is flooded. Hundreds of persons are marooned on house tops and in trees, where they took refuge. Many persons are floating through the parish on rafts.

Reports of loss of life have not been verified by Associated Press correspondents. Immense damage has been wrought. The losses in live stock alone probably will exceed those of the section in northeastern Arkansas flooded by the break north of Memphis.

For rheumatism you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. Try it and see how quickly it gives relief. For sale by all dealers.

OFFICIAL RETURNS SHOW NO CHANGES IN WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis., April 12.—With official returns from all but one small county, Oneshia, from the recent presidential primary and election in Wisconsin for delegates to the national convention, Senator La Follette is shown to have received 131,929 and President Taft 47,291. La Follette gained the solid Republican delegation. The total Democratic presidential vote was 81,738, of which Wilson received 45,504, Clark, 36,231. Wilson's majority, 5,233.

Of the 26 delegates to the Baltimore convention, Wilson gets 19 and Clark 6. One undecided delegate, Thomas J. Fleming, was elected in the Fourth district.

WIND, LIGHTNING

Inches of snow have fallen here in the past 18 hours.

News came from Meeker this morning that the loss of spring stock would be the heaviest in years. Local cattlemen fear that all of the calves will be frozen.

Telephone communication with outlying districts tells of farmers being snowbound.

LEAVES BODY TO COLLEGE BUT HER FRIENDS PROTEST

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—The body of Mrs. Angelina L. E. can be buried at Kansas City, Kan. will left by the woman directing her body should be given to some college must be set aside by probate court.

Mrs. Hoxie made the unique will cause she believed there would be one to mourn at her funeral. Her death last Monday many have feared to protest, and today the Social union of the First Presbyterian church arranged to hold funeral services next Monday.

The public administrator was to take steps to get the will. It is held that there is some question as to the right of a person to what disposition shall be made of body after death, but unless some legal action is taken, it is probable the court will permit burial.

FRENCH AERONAUT KILLED WHEN MACHINE COLLAPSES

PARIS, April 13.—Lieut. M. H. A. Boncour, of the Twenty-seventh infantry regiment, was killed today in an aeroplane accident. He was making a flight near Bar La Due, 128 miles to the east of Paris, when he fell from a great height while passing over Lalmon. His aeroplane collapsed and the body of the aeronaut, when found in the debris, was almost unrecognizable.

"Corns Gonal GETS-IT GOT 'EM" It is the new corn cure that will surely surprise you the very first time you use it. It is so simple, painless, quick and sure in its action.

It separates the corn from the true flesh, the corn comes off, and there you are, with feet that feel positively glorious, corn-free once more as they used to be in your "barefoot days."

The most remarkable feature is that "GETS-IT" does not harm or turn raw the healthy flesh as other preparations do. It is as safe as water. No more plasters, bandages, or knives. "GETS-IT" is sold at drug stores, at a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

REBEL LEADERS

Consul Letcher. There was never any real trial of the American. Apparently the Liberal leaders finally came to the conclusion that they had overreached themselves, and the prisoner was informed that he had been "disgraced."

Not only Americans, but other foreigners in Chihuahua are now really fearful as to the outcome. The arrest of Mr. Hobbs and his treatment while a prisoner, the shooting of Thomas Fountain, and the fact that Consul Letcher and other officials all have contributed to the feeling of insecurity on top of this are reports that the rebels are short of ammunition and funds. In the event of their defeat in the impending campaign, foreigners fear anarchy among the troops will follow, including soldiers and detachments seeking to secure all possible loot before departing to the hills. Nor is this the greatest fear they feel, for there is the danger of no longer suffering inflamed against Americans by recent events, and beyond that of their

STEAMER VENUS MAY BE USED IN MEXICAN WAR

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.

The steamer Venus, which gained considerable notoriety during the revolution in Nicaragua two years ago, has changed hands again. Captain R. B. Wick of New Orleans has purchased the vessel from the Costa Rican government, by which it was seized at the end of the Nicaraguan revolution. Captain Wick declined to say for what purpose the ship was to be used. There is a rumor current here that the Venus will be used in the Mexican revolution.

CHINA IS CONGRATULATED

WASHINGTON, April 13.

Acting on the recommendation of the committee on foreign relations, the senate today adopted the house resolution congratulating the people of China on their assumption of power.

WASHINGTON, April 13.

Mexican rebels are rapidly rousing the ire of this government and while no steps of retaliation have been discussed it is almost certain the revolutionists will never obtain sympathy or recognition. Interference of the rebels with official mail of American consuls and the summary execution of Thomas Fountain, an American gunner, in defiance of protest from this country, have caused a feeling of aggravation.

Though the United States is practically powerless at present to compel more courtesy from the rebels, it is felt that a heavy reckoning is waiting some of the ineffectual leaders.

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., April 12.

So far as General Orozco is concerned his declaration to recognize United States Consul Marion Letcher in the latter's official capacity is a closed incident. Although the few Americans remaining here regard the rebel leader's action as superfluous inasmuch as Consul Letcher could not in the present circumstances recognize Orozco officially, the incident is regarded as very significant. Probably it has caused more uneasiness than any other single event of the rebel.

Gen. Antonio Rojas was placed on trial before a military court today. Rojas is charged with disobedience of orders. He was ordered to proceed with his column against Ojinada but declined. He was arrested at the time and 200 of his men were disbanded. The military situation south of here remains unchanged.

MEXICO CITY, April 12.

Cullinan, capital of the state of Sinaloa, and Tepic, capital of the territory of that name, fell into the hands of revolutionists yesterday, according to private dispatches received in Mexico City today and published by El Imparcial.

Chest Pains and Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is an excellent remedy for chest and throat affections. It quickly relieves congestion and inflammation. A few drops in water used as a gargle is antiseptic and healing.

Here's Proof

"I have used Sloan's Liniment for years and can testify to its wonderful efficiency. I have used it for sore throat, croup, lame back and rheumatism, and in every case it gave instant relief."

REBECCA JANE ISAACS,
Lacy, Kentucky.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is excellent for sprains and bruises. It stops the pain at once and reduces swelling very quickly.

Dale Kammerer Wins First Prize, Adelaide Brown Second

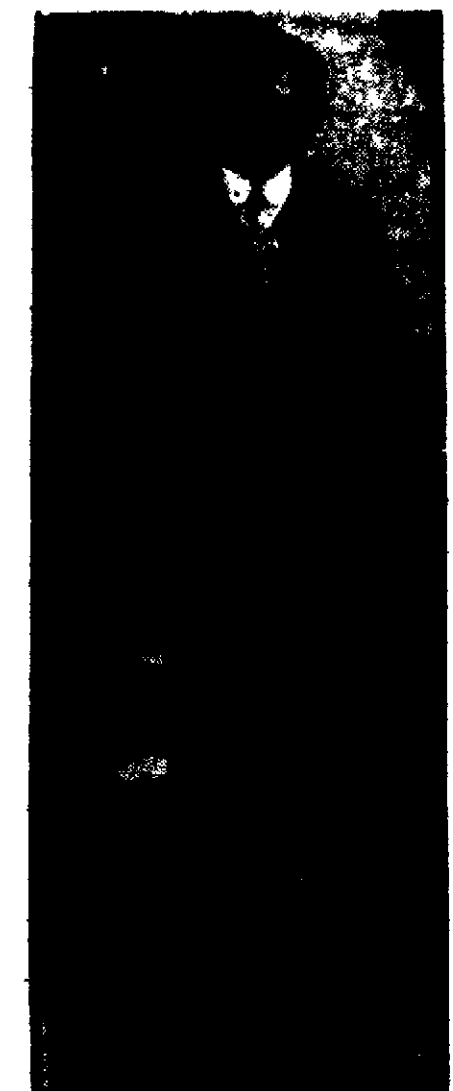

The winners of the prizes in the essay contest recently conducted in the city, five, six, seven and eight at the Columbia school by the members of the Civic League were announced yesterday as follows:

First prize, $5, Dale Kammerer, aged 14 years, grade eight.

Second prize, $2, Adelaide Brown, aged 11, grade six.

Honorable mention, Josephine Atken, aged 13 years, grade eight and Raymond Gardner, aged 11 years, grade five.

The contestants were offered two subjects from which to choose: "How Can We Make Our City the Best in the World to Live and Work In?" and "Why We Love Our City."

which won first prize was written on the former subject and the one which took the second prize on the latter.

All children in the four upper grades of the school were allowed to compete in the contest, but they were not allowed to get help from anyone while writing the essay. All of the writing was done last Thursday morning at the school building, and the essays, about 100 in number, were read and judged by a committee of three women, as follows: Mrs. Charles Penbody, Mrs. George Finlay and Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter. The essays were judged by the points brought out rather than by literary effort. The prizes were not presented in public.

The first prize essay, written by Dale Kammerer on "How Can We Make Our City the Best in the World to Live and Work In?" follows:

First Prize Essay.

The way and things that I like we can make our city the best to live in and work in is, first, start cleaning it up, and we can help by picking up scraps of paper and burning up the tumble weeds which is one of our worst pests to this city, and also the dandelion which destroys a lawn in a very short time.

If we wanted to go on improving we should tear down all old frame buildings and build stone or brick ones in their place.

A good way to make our city beautiful is to get rid of the flies, which is one of the worst insects to carry disease. And it is also a great pest to the housewife.

We should plant trees on both sides of the walks and keep them in good condition by trimming and watering them and have a city forester in the spring to wash them with something to kill the little insects that get on them at this time of the year.

We could clean our vacant lots and plant flowers in them.

A great thing to a city is to have an amusement place where the tourist and workingman can go on a Sunday and spend the day in leisure. And cut down the street car prices so a man can go some place without being robbed by street car prices.

We might put up some kind of a home where the old folks could go and stay, and a soldiers' home, or paper boy's home where they could go and stay all their lives, and those that could work could make nice lawns and flower gardens in it.

We could put up some kind of a racing place down town for the farmer that comes into town all day and has no place to go or where they could get a cup of coffee and something to eat for a few cents.

We should make good roads and walks, and have our railroads run through some of the good parts of the city, and have our street cars, railroads, telephones, all owned by the government.

If we could we should make our streets crush stones and make our roads and railroad bed of white crushed stone. We ought to make the telephone and electric light companies put their poles up the alleys and keep up our alleys just the same as the streets.

Have garbage cans at every house and send a man with a team every morning to empty them and keep heavy teams off our good streets, and make them go up the alleys and have the alleys wide enough for them to pass.

One of the best things for a city is a good government and have a good police force, which Colorado Springs has not got and when we make a law enforce it and give a good fine or penalty.

Another thing is to protect our song birds and wild game, have hunting laws and have a good game warden that will walk around and find things and keep a good force of humane officers to protect our animals.

Second Prize Essay.

The essay which took the second prize was written by Adelaide Brown, on "Why We Love Our City." It is as follows:

In a beautiful city near foothills and old Pike's Peak are the many lovely homes of the people who occupy this place. There are also many parks that are beautiful, both in summer and winter. There is music in most of the parks all summer. The schools are full of lovely boys and girls, and the grounds are covered with children playing it recess and before school, happy birds are singing in the many trees and bees buzz happily as they float in and out of the flowers that border the paths of the garden walks of homes. Indeed, everything seems happy in this beautiful city.

This is why we love our city, for it is not everything beautiful when we all try to make it so.

Honorable Mention.

The following essay on "How Can We Make Our City the Best in the World to Live and Work In?" was by Raymond Gardner's essay.

The other essay which received honorable mention was written by Raymond Gardner, on "Why We Love Our City." It is as follows:

We love our city because we have been raised here and we have friends. Then there are the mountains and the beautiful scenery. We like it because there are fine schools and beautiful parks. There are no saloons. My father says it is a moral city. The fine hospitals keep everyone healthy and happy. It has a fine climate. It is a clean city and keeps the year clean and keeps the grass green and flowers in the yard. I think it would help us to love our city and bring us happiness and health.

First, I would have Shook's run tipped out of the city and fill up its bed with the ashes that have been dumped upon its banks. Over this sand and earth could be put. After a while it could be used to build upon. Then all the old houses could be torn down and replaced with new ones, using brick or stone to make the danger of fire less. Building up the east side and making a park out near the old Town and Gown Golf club;

'The Keeley Cure For The Liquor Disease Has Never Failed

400,000 men have been saved by the Keeley treatment during the last 32 years. 400,000 families restored to happiness! New hope and joy and ambition brought into the lives of approximately 3,000,000 people! Isn't there someone you can help?

DRUNKENNESS IS A DISEASE

Dr. Leshe E. Keeley proved that drunkenness is a true disease. It affects the nerve cells, producing in them a demand for alcoholic food. And it paralyzes the sufferer's will power and ability to resist.

Not one man in a thousand can stop immoderate drinking of his own accord. No more than he can cure himself of smallpox or brain fever. He must have help!

FRANCE MAY HAVE LAW TO POPULARIZE SPORTS

By GEORGE DUFRESNE.
PARIS, April 13.—More sport is needed in France. This is what a number of deputies think, who have formed themselves into a committee at the chamber for the purpose of legislating for and encouraging sports. They assume that in France nothing can be done unless there is a law to that effect. As soon as the law is passed, French citizens will at once feel themselves obliged to cultivate a sport.

The parliamentary committee intends first of all to patronize athletics. Foot racing, football and all kinds of open-air sports are to be locally encouraged. So one of the spokesmen says, but he does not go into details as to how it is to be done.

There is one good point about the new parliamentary group, and it is that none is entitled to be a member unless he can box, run jump or prove that he is athletic and fond of open-air sport.

ASK OPINION REGARDING SCHOOL APPROPRIATIONS

DENVER, April 13.—An opinion as to whether the appropriations for the Fort Lewis branch of the State Agricultural college and the Indian school are first class has been asked of Attorney General Griffith by State Treasurer Kenehan. Both institutions were donated by the federal government to the state with the understanding they were to be maintained. The appropriation for the Fort Lewis school at Durango is $60,000 and that for the Grand Junction Indian school, $10,000. Twenty-five per cent of each has been paid. The full appropriations will be paid if they are declared first class.

EVERYONE NEEDS S.S.S. IN THE SPRING

Everyone needs S.S.S. in the Spring because there is no other medicine equal to this great vegetable preparation for building up a worn-out run-down system.

Chronic bodily weakness, tired, worn out feeling, sickle appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, etc., come as a result of thin, watery blood. These symptoms show that the body is not supplied with a sufficient amount of nourishment from the circulation. The stomach, bowels and digestive members are sluggish from a lack of stimulating blood nutrition.

A great many so-called tonics are simply nerve stimulants, producing temporary exhilarating effects, but often acting with decided injury on the system. Dosing yourself with such drugs is not giving your body the benefit of proper treatment. If you are depleted and run-down you cannot overcome the condition except by supplying an increase of nourishment to the body and this can be done only through pure, rich blood.

S.S.S. is the greatest of all tonics because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It builds up the system in the natural way, by purifying the blood and supplying an increased amount of nourishment. S.S.S. gives healthful energy to every member of the body; it increases the appetite, promotes digestion, quiets overstrained nerves, and in every way adds to the physical comfort of those who use it as a tonic. Do not "mope around" and "feel bad" this Spring; take S.S.S. and be able to perform your customary work every day without fear of overtaxing your strength. Cleanse and enrich your blood with this great purifier and tonic so that the energized circulation will build up and strengthen your system, and permit you to enjoy all the beauty and pleasures of this most welcome season of the year.

S.S.S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is therefore a perfectly safe tonic. Everyone needs S.S.S. in the Spring and almost everyone takes it. If you will try it this year you will know why it is regarded as the best of all tonics. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

Men and Religion Forward Movement

In Behalf of the Christian Life of the Men and Boys of North America

A NEW DYNAMIC FOR THE CHURCH

The idea of making a "social survey" of not only the church but the entire community as a prerequisite to more effective work on the part of the forces of organized religion, is one of the big things that the "Men and Religion Forward Movement" has developed. It would seem as if the carrying out of this one plan would more than justify the entire efforts of the "Movement."

Possibly the most significant thing of all in connection with the "social survey" program is the change of attitude it reveals. It shows that the church is realizing the necessity of first learning what the environment of the individual is and the social forces that are either helping or hindering him.

It means that churchmen are catching the spirit of Jesus' dominating passion for the "Kingdom of right relations." That is for the here and now heaven of mutual service and brotherhood.

Rational bible study will restore the social emphasis of Christ's teaching. When that social message is discerned and the churchmen get the vision of the new program of the church as one that includes social salvation as a primary factor, the transforming of the kingdoms of this world into the kingdom of God, the dynamic of a wonderful new ideal will transform the character of our church life.

It will not only remodel the activities of the church but in a large measure change the appeal it makes to the man outside its membership. By substituting for the present cry of "Save yourself" a message that calls on men to join together for service of the common good, and that shows the path of salvation as one that leads the one who would follow it through the marts of trade, the centers of industry, the sweat shops and the tenements that is wherever fellowmen and women strive, suffer and die in need, the church will not only have rediscovered the heart of Jesus' gospel, but at the same time found the rejuvenating power it has sought so long.

To the writer it seems the greatest service of the "Men and Religion Forward Movement" will consist directly along these lines and that the many other ways that it will help the religious life of our time will be by-products of this new conception of Christianity and the function of the church which it will strongly present.

IMPORTANT DENOMINATIONAL MEETINGS

Programs and Headquarters During the Great Christian Conservation Congress

One of the most important features of the great Christian Conservation congress, to be held in New York, as a climax to the Men and Religion Forward Movement, will be the meetings of delegates representing the various denominations connected with the movement.

It is said that the results of these several conferences will be of secondary importance only to the forward movement itself, so far as permanent results are concerned. For when the campaign is finally over, and the congress has adjourned, the work of carrying forward the Men and Religion program will be left.

In its final form the forward movement is for the benefit of the local church wherever found, and the men in the local church will have responsibility for the final success of this year of effort. And where the men of a local church are organized in a brotherhood or club, and where an inter-church federation exists, success is assured. For this reason those in charge of arrangements for the conservation congress are using every means to impress the men of America with the very great importance of the denominational meetings. Headquarters for these meetings are being chosen in New York and regular denominational meetings.

As an example, the program of the United Brethren church may be quoted as follows: The United Brethren delegates will hold their denominational meetings at the Hotel Brethren, Twenty-ninth and Broadway, with Bishop W. M. Bell, D.D., of Los Angeles, presiding officer. The program includes: 1. Consideration of practical work for the Men and Religion program in the local church. Mr. O. P. Beckley, 2. Relation of our denominational departments to conservation by representatives.

3. The interchurch responsibility. Rev. C. Brethacker, Ph.D. 4. Policy for conservation in the United Brethren church. Presented by Warren L. Burger, secretary of the United Brethren Brotherhood, Davenport and adoption.

FORWARD WORK SPREADING

Prompt and Energetic Action in Pittsburg's auxiliary

Reports coming in from the auxiliary cities indicate that this year's interest is being taken in this movement of work. One of the most interesting reports comes from Pittsburg, Mo. A delegation of boys from that city attended the old boys' convention held in Pittsburg, Mo., at the eight-day convention. On their way home from the conference they were met by a delegation of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, who were holding a meeting at the time. This was the first time that a delegation of the Men and Religion Forward Movement had been met by a delegation of the old boys' convention.

On February 26th a delegation of 2,300 boys from the old boys' convention was met by a delegation of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, who were holding a meeting at the time. being used in courses for Men and Religion meetings. A survey of the city has put in the hands of the Boys Work committee the name and some facts regarding each boy in the city, and many of them are being reached by the churches now that had not previously been brought under the influence of the church.

AL CHASE IS ANXIOUS TO OUTDO COBB ON BALL FIELD

By W. J. MCBETH.
ATLANTA, Ga., April 13.—A new challenger from Wolverton's host camp, Al Chase, has been named as the season's mortal combat with the champion diamond knight, Ty Cobb. Like the Georgian of Hugh Jennings' mighty aggregation, he is no novice at the bat. His star was firmly established by his first "humb" league contest. Chase, first baseman of the Wolvertons, aspires to Cobb's crown. He stands second only to the sensational Cobb. In many respects the new leader of the Wolvertons is superior to even Ty. Chase is the greatest first baseman of baseball history, the greatest fielder, and the greatest thinker. He is wonderfully quick on the bases, is able to break quickly, and possesses that keen vision of just when to start on a steal. He is not caught stealing. He is a pilferer third more often than a rival. Before he sets forth on a long trip, Chase is absolutely sure that he holds the winning advantage.

MINERS AND MINERS TO PLAY TOMORROW

Scheduled to open the intercollegiate season at Washburn field, tomorrow afternoon, the Tiger-Miners game was called off because of unfavorable weather. Coach Rothgeb was called to get into telephone communication with the Miners before they could get to the field. The game was postponed until tomorrow, and the postponed game will be played at Washburn field at 2 o'clock, weather permitting. Yesterday's wind storm played havoc with the covered stand and tearing up the playing field. A new roof had just been put on the stand, and much of the combination of the Miners ball team and the thirteenth of the month have had something to do with yesterday's happenings. Last season's game scheduled with the Miners was finally canceled altogether, the cause of a wrangle concerning the eligibility of Sinton, and the second owing to the fact that a bill of exchange was out of the question. The game between the Tigers and the School of Mines should be close and exciting all the way. The institutions have first-class teams this season, and in the matter of pitching, Richards of the Tigers and Wilson of the Miners will break out even. The Tigers have a better hitting team than last year, and could give a good account of themselves in this department of the game. The squads probably will work out tomorrow morning a few hours before the game. The controversy over the dispute question has been settled, and it will be the tenth man in the ring. An advance lineup is given out as follows:

Position	Tigers	Miners
Pitcher	Richards	Wilson
Catcher	Deans	Jackson
First Base	McLaughlin	McLaughlin
Second Base	Raymond	Raymond
Third Base	Wall	Wall
Right Field	Moberg	Moberg

BOZ WILL PLAY BALL THIS AFTERNOON IF...

Whether the Zoo and the Elitch garden of Denver play ball today depends altogether on the weather. There may be a game and again there may not. However, the contest, according to announcement late last night, has not been called off, and a game will be played at Zoo park at 2 p.m., as per schedule, unless a day is too rough for the athletes. Weather this morning promises fair day, the Elitch garden will have a game from Denver; if it is not, the game will be declared off.

TWO BRAINY BASEBALL LEADERS

On the left, Connie Mack, the crafty manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, who led his team to first place in the American league and a world's championship last season, is shown giving one of his young pitchers a little inside dope on the art of teaching. The lanky manager acquired not a little knowledge of pitching during the years he spent behind the bat, before becoming a bench manager. Johnny McGraw, the scrappiest manager in the National league and leader of the New York Giants, is shown on the right teaching one of his new players the proper way to hold a bat when bunting.

DELIVUK DUE TODAY FOR COMING BOUT WITH RYAN

Charles Delivuk, Austria's champion wrestler at his weight and the man who "discovered" Zbyszko, will reach Colorado Springs today from Wichita preparatory to his match at Temple theater Thursday night with Tommy Ryan.

Jimmy Asbell, the Kansas City grappler, who is traveling with Delivuk and training him for his bouts, will accompany the Austrian to Colorado Springs. Delivuk has plenty of class and Ryan will meet one of the wisest wrestlers in the game when he takes on the foreigner. He was with Gotch and Dr. Roller for three years and there is little about the game that is not an old story to him. He and Zbyszko hail from the same section and are close friends.

The wrestling platform from Ryan's studio has been moved to Temple theater and will be erected in the center of the floor, thus enabling ring-side seats for practically everyone.

It is announced by the management that ladies accompanied with escorts will be admitted free at Thursday night's contest, and this doubtless will insure a big attendance of the gentler sex. Two good preliminaries will be put on before the main bout.

PROSPECTS FOR JOHNSON- FLYNN BATTLE NOT BRIGHT

By W. J. NAUGHTON.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The prospects for a battle between Jim Johnson and Jack Flynn are not bright. Johnson, who is now in the hospital, is expected to be out of the hospital by the end of the week. Flynn, who is now in the hospital, is expected to be out of the hospital by the end of the week. FAILURE TO STICK IRRITATES KEENE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 13.—William Keene, of Atlanta, Ga., was perturbed and audibly disappointed when the sad news was broken to him that he would not be carried on the payroll of the Pittsburgh club after the opening of the season. His face was downcast and he made no secret of the fact that he returns to Springfield, O., very much crestfallen.

Keene made it worse for himself by boasting that he would stick. From the time of reporting at West Baden he seemed to be bubbling over with confidence, and he talked about bearing out Mickey Kellner for the bag in a way that indicated that it was the only problem that confronted him. Both youngsters seemed to be impressed with the notion that all they had to do was to beat the other fellow out.

When the club reached the Vapor Valley, however, and Fred Clarke put Jack Miller on the bag for the regulars and Ham Hyatt for the Yankies and kept them there, some of the paper of the incorrigible Keene vanished. They seemed to drop entirely out of sight.

Both these youngsters have ability. Kellner gives promise and may make a place in fast company. To the credit of Keene it must be said, however, that while he felt humiliated in being sent back to Springfield, he declared when shaking hands with the Pirates that he proposed to play his level best during the coming summer and that he intends to try to crawl back up the ladder.

PASTOR ON TRIAL FOR ARSON
Efforts are being made by his lawyers to prove that the Rev. Frank J. Norris of Ft. Worth, Tex., is mentally unbalanced as a result of his zeal in attempting to clean up the vice-ridden sections of the city. The minister is now standing trial on a charge of arson for the burning of his $100,000 First Baptist church, here, late in February, and he is also accused of having set fire to his own home the following week. His congregation is the richest in Ft. Worth and it is said that several of the wealthy parishioners are financing his fight against the charges.

PERSONAL FRIEND OF KAISER ASSURED PLACE

By FREDERICK WERNER

BERLIN, April 13.—Should the present chancellor fall and disappear from political life as did his predecessor, Prince Von Buelow, there is no doubt but that his successor would be another personal friend of the kaiser. Admiral Von Tirpitz, who at present, in his capacity of secretary of the navy, is at loggerheads with his political chief.

There is no doubt in the public mind but that Admiral Von Tirpitz is by far the stronger of the two. In prestige, influence and popularity the secretary for the navy has all the best of it. He enjoys the undoubted confidence of the kaiser. Public opinion looks upon him as the true creator of the German navy. The Berliner Tageblatt recently credited him with having sufficient influence with his sovereign to thwart some of the chancellor's own plans regarding the "defense bill." Nothing appears to be more certain than that if one of the two men is to be sacrificed because of their irreconcilable differences, it will not be Admiral Von Tirpitz. The idea that so popular an idol had been overthrown in order that Herr Von Bethmann might remain premier, provoked a storm of protest. The suggestion made in some quarters that he himself might be selected to occupy the chancellor's famous "Eckplatz" is possibly a mere product of the imagination.

The step, as even the Chauvinist organ, Die Post, admits, would be too gratuitously provocative in England. But, while he may not succeed Herr Von Bethmann in the one post, he in all human probability will long outlive him in the other.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT FAMILY OF EMPRESS EUGENIE

PARIS, April 13.—Interesting particulars of the family of the Empress Eugenie have been given in a lecture on "Merimee et les Tuileries," just delivered by M. Andre Hallays. It was in 1828 that Prosper Merimee, during a visit to Spain, met the Count de Teba, who had served under Napoleon as an artillery colonel, and had in 1814 commanded the batteries planted on the heights of Montmartre. They became very friendly, and Merimee made the acquaintance of the count's two young daughters.

Sometime afterwards the count settled in Paris and Merimee used to correct Eugenie's French exercises. After a while, owing to the death of his elder brother, the Count de Teba, inherited the titles and wealth of the Montijo family. In 1838 Madame de Montijo returned to Spain, but she kept up a correspondence with Merimee, the publication of which would be a valuable contribution to the history of the July monarchy and the second empire. He was quite a confidant during the courtship which led up to the imperial nuptials, and it was at the request of the Empress Eugenie that he consented to become a senator.

DIED RATHER THAN BEG

Document Just Issued Shows 111 Persons Starved to Death in England and Wales in 1910

LONDON, April 13.—A grim document has been issued from the local government board. It recorded the deaths in 1910 in England and Wales of 111 persons from starvation "or accompanied by privation," and it furnished details of each case.

The saddest thing in connection with these tragedies is disclosed by the following statement:
"In 95 out of the 111 cases no application had been made for poor relief, or application was only made when death was in a dying condition. Most of the poor victims would do rather starve than beg."

Brown-Lowell Marriage

The following account of the marriage of Mr. Charles L. McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell, to Miss Dorothy M. Holden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Holden, will be of interest to many of their friends in Colorado Springs.

The beautiful home of Mrs. Harold Morris was converted into a southern garden last evening for the occasion of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Dorothy M. Holden, to Mr. Charles L. McConnell, which was solemnized at 6 o'clock in the presence of 100 friends and relatives.

The bride party stood in the drawing room in front of arched windows concealed with masses of green. The walls and ceiling of the room were covered thickly with southern smilax and ferns. The bride and groom were seated in the center of the room, and the bridesmaids stood on either side of them. The groom was wearing a tuxedo and the bride was wearing a white gown.

You understand I do not wish to oppose you as burdensome to your withdrawal of your bid before two o'clock." Trant continued uncertainly. "On the contrary, I intend to use the telephone here at once. But if you prefer to telephone your withdrawal only before six now, you cannot afford that bid."

Old Tyson, with surprising agility, paused across the room and with a steel chuckle kicked the door.

"So you have you decided whether or not you're going to put up a game bid or whether you prefer to lose $100,000 forfeit put up with—"

Nelson's face flashed shuddering, pained, stark, gasping into a chi. Trant himself stepped up, the way he when he had asked his question, handed the check over to Rintzmales.

What? What? Rintzmales?

CHRISTENING THE MONTHS

AGATE FORMATION

from Mining Science.

Most agates are found by digging from cracks into the soft gels. The agates are not made of silica, but of a more hydrous soft substance. It is either, usually, substituted with iron, or they enter as iron, and the precipitation is probably by a hydrous or potash solution, and is shortened by the silica. As water, at least the gel contracts; at that time the outside; later, when a solid layer has formed, from the inside. The activity of the silica is in which the silica is formed, or the silica is formed in the gel, or the silica is formed in the gel in due to the silica, and the silica particles in obedience to the principle of the growth of large silica particles.

That evening Traffic Police Constable Garnier was on duty in front of the Gare St. Lazare. Many trains were arriving at the station and automobile after automobile was coming out of the station enclosure, bearing new arrivals from England and the North of France. Traffic was heavy and Policeman Garnier had all he could do to keep the street from becoming congested with car-traffic.

Suddenly he noticed an automobile pulling to the left of the island at the corner of the Rue du Havre, which barely stopped running on several passengers who were not expecting an auto to come from that direction. It was a Daimler-Benzville limousine and bore the number 578-X. It was occupied by three men, two on the seat in front and a third inside. The car signalled to the chauffeur and the automobile stopped, but the motor refused to run. He asked the chauffeur for his papers, drew his notebook from his pocket, and was about to make down the number of the machine in his list, to place a complaint against the owner for parking along the wrong side of the street when he noticed that they were blocking the traffic. So he asked the chauffeur to drive further up the street.

The car started and executed a quarter circle to the left. As it began to turn, it struck the policeman, thinking that the chauffeur was trying to escape, jumped on the running board. At the moment when they were doubling the bend, where the policeman had been standing, three patrol cars rang out. The car speed was still increasing, and as it started down the Rue du Havre the policeman, struck in the side by the three bullets, rolled to the pavement. Some passers-

W HAT has become of the mistake cup-fr instance? Those china affairs made especially so gentlemen would not soil their lips adornments on the coffee. It seems only yesterday that Aunt Fannie was sending farm to all her best boxes for birthday presents. It was because I misled them the other day that I tried to find out how many china dear relics of the near past have disappeared.

What's become of all the red and white striped stockings all the little girls used to wear? I can remember hundreds of little girls who used to run around with their legs looking like sticks of peppermint candy, but now I never see one. And the knitted mittens around the necks. And oh, yes—that's become of the big mitts we used to wear with strings attached around our necks?

I recall now that I didn't see a linen duster last Summer, and I didn't see one of those straw derby hats we used to wear. What's become of them? And where are the red-top boys' boots, the boots with the little hair protectors that the boys wore with the big hairs shaved on the bottom of the boots?

What's become of the lady barbers?
And what's become of all the colored barbers. The walkin' caps and the bling hair—mother used to see in washing?

strange glass case that hung up in the parlor with colored water inside. What's become of them? What too, of the big glass marbles with the little silver ball inside that was the last word in knickknacks in every well-conducted American home? Also the stuffed dove under the round glass case that used to stand just to the side of the door, and the everlasting flowers? And what's become of the knitted wristlets you used to see along Broadway or any main street, and what's become of the old hand-knitted stockings for men, the awl-knit collars that never had a lining—and last, the case on the mantelpiece with the wax figure?

What has become of the Auntie Saturey, the Hon. man Phee who used to walk on the ceiling?

What's become of Zip, the Mathematical Marvel, Jack O'Brick and the thirteen lady hike riders; the publisher, the author of "White Wings," They Never Grow Weary," the Seven Sutherland Sisters and the wooden ship in the bottle that no self-respecting bar could be without?

For that matter, what's become of the raw egg eating champion, the pie eating champion, the oyster spitting champion?

Mother's caudal pincettes with the red sealing wax on top—are there any more anywhere? The old wooden wardrobe in the bedroom, and the six-day go-as-you-please race, the white bone-handled table knives and home-made bread, the little rusty meat with marrow bones and much, much saying on them, and the sheaf of wheat and colored pupas grass in the best room—where?

Did you ever see the alligator of pidor? It is a wild looking creature, and maybe you're lucky to forget it. But this one is to be almost everywhere, the gentle hair has been discarded. You reached out fast and stepped on the water cupid. Promptly, gained enormously. Then you exasperated, "I removed your foot and the jaws closed. It was a true wonder to him." It seemed that particular habit to the dignity of a ceremony, although many kept on preferring a more direct in the latter case.

At the moment, a water battery did away with the pool dorthell knobs, but what made the horsehair mine. Horsehair again, the water were wooden Indian, the whole being covered by the motives of "God Bless On Home" seemed with a lined watered through petrified cardboard disappear?

Bristles, that curly finger can be accounted for on the grounds of changing fashion, but what's become of the hair tongs, and what on earth has become of the natural hair? Where's the Rollax sandwich, which was made of a piece of coconut candy between two brown cookies with salted sides? And the impious with the printed jokes? Has anybody been seen Kelly?

more serious, and he would always not be back of the heads when we sat on the chairs and sofas?

Did you mean on the alligator or piper? It was a weird looking alligator, and maybe you're lucky to forget it. But then you'd be almost everywhere, the gentle habit was learned. You reached out and stepped on the alligator's snout. Promptly I gazed anxiously. Then you exasperated. You removed your foot and the jaws closed. It was a true wonderful thing. It was that particular habit to the dignity of a ceremony, although many kept on preferring a knicker to the latter element.

Of course the savage hunters did away with the polished leather boots, but what made the horsehair riding boots horsehair again, the very same wooden Indian, the whole world forgot and the masses of "Good Bye On Home" never with a lined worded through perturbation and board disappear!

And what's become of the spring-heeled shoes to young ladies?

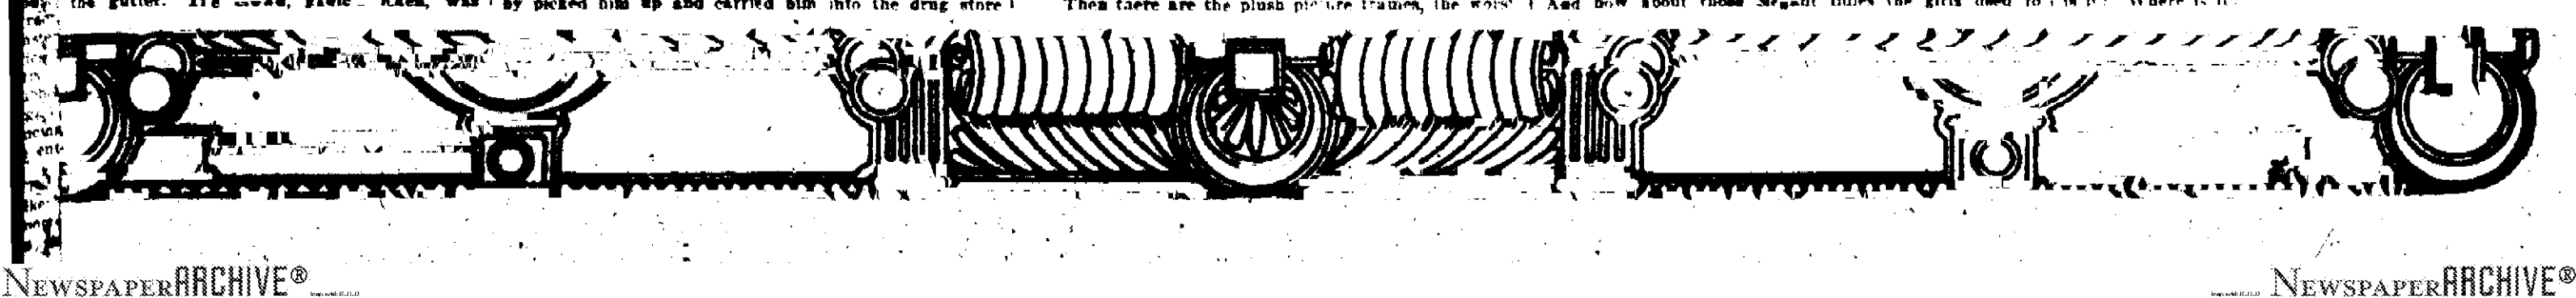

And the capers girls?

Right, that little fellow can be accounted for on the grounds of changing fashions, but what's become of the hair tongs, and what on earth has become of the natural hair? Where's the Rollier sandwich, which was made of a piece of cocoanut candy between two brown cookies with seasoned slices? And the Impromptu with the printed jokes? Has anybody here seen Kelly?

Have you noticed that the little German band is almost what has become of it?

Look! What's become of you now, something, too? What's become of you?

THE VICTORY

climbed upon chairs. They scolded madmen. They hugged each other. They laughed and wept. They waved their arms. They themselves hoarse. Cheer after cheer was lifted. The men upon the form leaped up and pressed round. Kichnie reached for the document that was waving. He and Kas scanned it and were convinced. The men tottered and sat down with joy. Some rushed about the room. Some dashed out of the building and ran like madmen for their homes.

In the street the cry was raised:

"The strike is ended!" The echoing pean floated upon the breeze. "We win! We win! We win!"

What is it that brings a woman as if by instinct, into the great crowd of the world's leaders and the applauding excitedly amid the welsh throng. Her face was flushed with winning Wisp of chestnut hair broken away and swept the spots upon her cheeks. Her dress cheap and poor, but clung to her living figure with a kind of grace. Her eyes were blue and her smile a charm with which love may make a face that is plain and care-mass was hers. John swooped down at his strong arms, and lifted her up. "John! John!" she exclaimed, holding him rapturously. "You won it, you won it square."

"You bet, Jennie. He recon proudly, returning her kisses from her gusto, and the crowd look on with interest. Honk! Honk!

"Fine," she answered.

"But the men were crowding me again."

"How'd you do it, Jack?" asked Kiebuhe, with honest admiration, chagrined in the joy of victory, to know how near he had come to committing the men to a grievous mistake.

"I just went up to Chicago, put a bid and grabbed that big contract myself," he answered, laughing with excitement and sheer joy. "It was the maddest bunch of fellows ever saw in your life. I had good a right to bid as any of 'em. I take my chance on subletting. So was what they was going to do. I got a bona fide right to see 'em. They couldn't say a word. So they calmed down considerable. I found I was willin' to turn the whole contract to them if they agree to recognize the unions and our scale for three years. They would a lot on the train comin' but finally they fell over their heads to sign up."

"I had it," answered Martin, with a glowing smile of self-satisfaction. The round and wondering eyes of the men grew rounder and more wondering still.

Outside, the block in front of the headquarters was filled with jubilant men, from curb to curb. The nearest cross street a motor with two men in it had been seized by the press of pedestrians. On the men was Medros, of Medros, Sloan & Co., who were to have put

"So that's what he took our $100,000 for," snarled the creature Lafferty, "to accompany his bid against us for the contract. I thought he was doing an awful lot of things when I was explaining the canal to him. But the bond?" he asked after a moment of further reflection.

"How in blazes did he get the sub-companies to agree to go on his bond?"

"Just talked 'em into it. I'm sure the same as he does everybody he keeps."

Again, I even heard Alice say to him to town that he talked old Fritz Her into lending him eight thousand dollars to meet his payroll with today. Come to think, I reckon he must have helped him with the other companies. That Dutchman is more of an old woman than he is a banker. If a fellow just happens to under his vest right, you know."

Lafferty chewed disconsolately at the end of an unlighted cigar. "And done us out of the fifteen thousand," he mumbled. "Darned if I see how the fellow can be crooked straight at the same time."

"Oh, he stung you like a black bee!" sneered Medros.

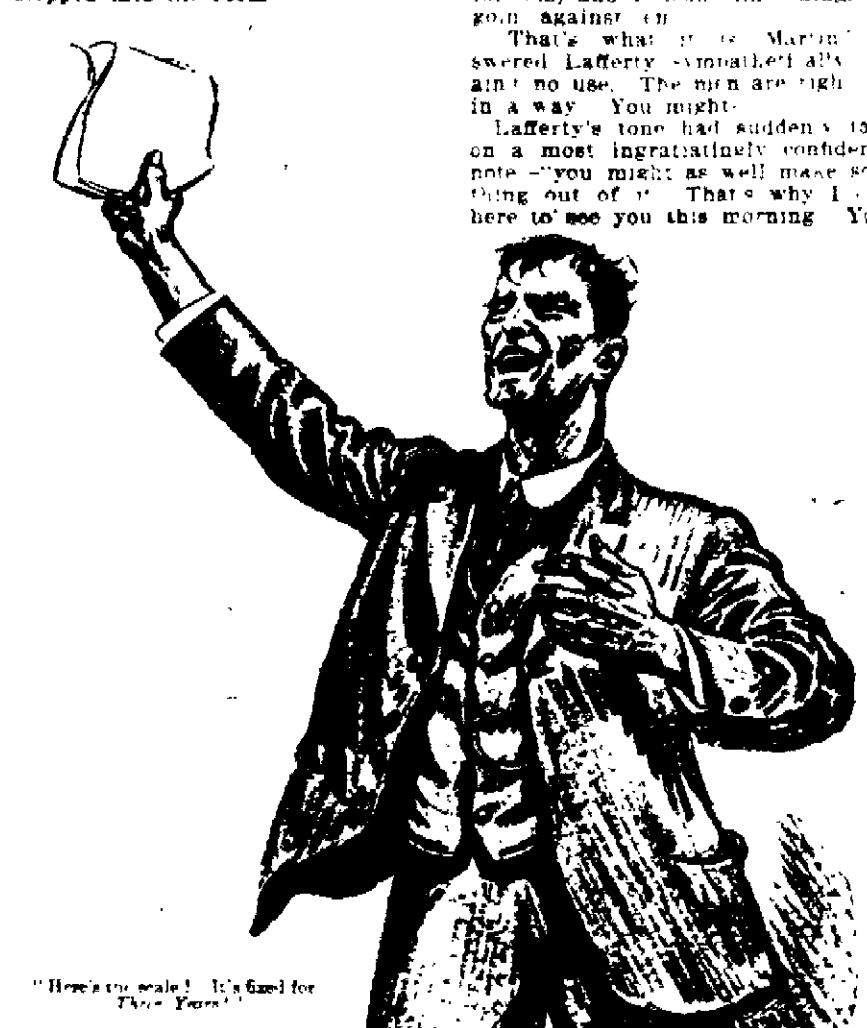

At this stage of the conversation Martin appeared from the kitchen with the ball, borne on the shoulders of enthusiastic men. He was proving good-naturedly, but yielding somewhat to the hilarious spirit that had broken out, naturally enough, with the victory. From his elevated position he made out the occupants of the motor car, and when the second wheel slipped to the ground and his way across to it.

"You double crossed me!"

"Well, I'm damned!"

"Besides," continued Martin, "I pulled an envelope from his pocket from it extracted a folded bit of paper with perforated edges, 'here
